ClearBridge Energy MLP Fund Inc.
Clarification Regarding the Tax Treatment of Distributions

ClearBridge Energy MLP Fund Inc. (“CEM” or the “Fund”) is a domestic “C” Corporation for tax purposes and as such, all of CEM’s ordinary income dividends may be treated as qualified dividend income ("QDI”) eligible for reduced rates of taxation for non-corporate U.S. Holders (including individuals), subject to certain requirements.

Among the requirements for QDI treatment, a shareholder must have held their shares of CEM for more than 60 days during the 121-day period that begins 60 days before the ex-dividend date in order to meet the holding period requirement.

The Fund is issuing a revised Form 1099-DIV to clarify the fact that all of its ordinary income dividends may be eligible for QDI treatment subject to the holding period and other requirements. The amounts as originally reported and as revised are shown below:

Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. There is a one-time public offering and once issued, shares of closed-end funds are sold in the open market through a stock exchange. Net asset value (NAV) is total assets less total liabilities divided by the number of shares outstanding. At the time of sale, your shares may have a market price that is above or below NAV. Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a market price that is below their net asset value. There is no assurance that the fund will achieve its investment objective. The fund is subject to investment risks, including the possible loss of principal invested.

The closed-end funds are not sold or distributed by Legg Mason Investor Services, LLC ("LMIS") or any affiliate of Legg Mason, Inc. Shares of the funds are bought and sold through non-affiliated broker/dealers and trade on the NYSE / NYSE Alternext.

All investments involve risk, including the loss of principal and there is no guarantee that investment objectives will be met.
