

ClearBridge All Cap Growth ETF (Ticker: CACG)

GO TO BAT WITH ALL CAP

ClearBridge All Cap Growth ETF taps into the insights of four market-tested portfolio managers to help investors navigate market uncertainty while providing potential for growth across market cycles.

Features:

- High-conviction stock selection
- Broad market-cap diversification
- Proven strategy now available in an active ETF

In today's market, growth opportunities are getting harder to find — and sustain over the long term. ClearBridge All Cap Growth ETF actively pursues growth across market capitalizations, potentially reducing the impact of underperformance by a specific market cap segment over any given period.

Designed for investors seeking long-term growth, the actively managed strategy emphasizes high-conviction stock selection of companies that have the potential for above-average long-term earnings and/or cash flow growth. The strategy's breadth seeks to provide diversification, which may offer the greatest potential for capturing growth opportunities.

The Russell 2000 Growth Index measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with higher price-to-book ratios and higher forecasted growth values. The Russell 2000 Index measures the performance of the 2,000 smallest companies in the Russell 3000 Index, and represents approximately 8% of the total market capitalization of the Russell 3000 Index. The Russell Midcap Growth Index measures the performance of the mid-cap segment of the U.S. equity universe. Investors cannot invest directly in an index and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges.

Equity securities are subject to price fluctuation and possible loss of principal. Small- and mid-cap stocks involve greater risks and volatility than large-cap stocks. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

PLAY THE WHOLE FIELD

ClearBridge All Cap Growth ETF is unique. It leverages the expertise of four seasoned portfolio managers as it seeks alpha¹ and capital appreciation by targeting inefficiently priced companies across market caps.

All-cap diversification, all-cap growth

Small-cap companies (with market capitalizations of $300 million to $3 billion) are typically the most aggressive in new product innovations and expansion.

Mid-cap companies (between $3 billion and $10 billion) are maturing and establishing reliable revenue streams.

Historically, large-cap companies (between $10 billion and $100 billion) have been considered stable and established. They typically focus on globalizing.

The spectrum of growth

ClearBridge All Cap Growth ETF allocates across three growth buckets (Cyclical, Stable, Select) that offer distinct risk/return characteristics

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

¹ Alpha is a measure of performance vs. a benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. A positive alpha of 1.0 means the portfolio has outperformed its benchmark index by 1%. Correspondingly, a similar negative alpha would indicate an underperformance of 1%. Alpha is a measure of the difference between actual returns and expected performance measuring sensitivity to index movements.

A SEASONED EYE FOR GROWTH

Drawing on the insights of four portfolio managers helps cover the bases, while increasing the impact of rigorous, research-driven analysis.

While each portfolio manager brings his or her own perspective, they also share some common ground:

- Take a “business model first, valuation second” approach
- Attracted to controversy, where companies may be priced inefficiently
- Favor new or innovative technologies, products and services

What should I know before investing?

The Fund is newly organized, with a limited history of operations. Equity securities are subject to price fluctuation and possible loss of principal. In addition to investments in large-capitalization companies, investments may be made in speculative and/or small-cap and mid-cap companies which involve a higher degree of risk and volatility than investments in larger, more established companies. Investments may also be made in depository receipts and other securities of non-U.S. companies in developed and emerging markets which involve risks in addition to those ordinarily associated with investing in domestic securities, including the potentially negative effects of currency fluctuation, political and economic developments, foreign taxation and differences in auditing and other financial standards. These risks are magnified in emerging markets. Active management and diversification do not ensure gains or protect against market declines.

Active share is a measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a manager's portfolio that differs from the benchmark index.
